Starting Out Young.

The youngest business man in the city of Grand Rapids as far as we have been able to learn is Albert Keyes, son of Justice James Keyes. Albert is only seven years old, but he has already demonstrated his ability as a business man, and if he keeps on the way he has started in there is no telling where he will fetch up.

Some time ago Albert took the agency for the Saturday Evening Post and at the time he secured the agency for the city, all others selling the paper in the city being compelled to purchase from him. At the same time he entered a competition, the requirements of which were that he should increase the sales of the paper at least one copy each week. That is, he might sell one hundred more papers this week than he did last, but if he did not sell one hundred and one more the next week, he would be down and out.

There were a number of boys went into the proposition when Albert did, but last week there were only six left, and Albert was second on the list. Last week he sold one hundred and sixty-five papers, which would indicate that Albert will make good in the contest, although he will have a strenuous path to travel along toward the last end.

Changed His Mind.

At Watoma last week the case of the state of Wisconsin vs. William Ferguson was tried. The case was conducted on the part of the state by District Attorney E. P. Killeen and the defense by B. B. Park of that city, and the outcome was certainly a unusual one. Last September four barns were burned in the village of Watoma, the value of the property destroyed being placed at $1,000. William Ferguson was charged with setting the fire and made four confessions, in all of which he acknowledged that he was guilty. One of these was made to the people whose property was burned, another to the district attorney, the third to the state fire warden and the fourth to the sheriff. When the case was called, however, he entered a plea of not guilty, repudiated all of his confessions and at the end of a long and interesting trial the jury acquitted him.

Services Well Attended.

The silver jubilee services held at the opera house on Sunday by the Evangelical Lutheran church were largely attended. The services in the morning and afternoon were conducted in German, they being conducted by Rev. A. Kroese of Kellner and Rev. Wm. Gieselman of the town of Sigel.

Will Hold May Social.

The Young Ladies Society will give a May social at the Foresters hall next Tuesday evening, May 5th at 8 p. m. There will be a musical program, games and refreshments. All are cordially invited.

THINK IT IS A FAKE.

Farmers and Others Consider that Tuberculosis in Cows do not Affect the Human Family.

There are many farmers throughout the state of Wisconsin who think the tuberculin test is a fake. They say it is a fake, and that lots of the cattle that are killed on account of being affected with tuberculosis are not so affected.

The Tribune is not prepared to say whether or not it is a fake. It being naturally supposed that men who are educated along such lines and spend their life studying such matters should be in a position to say whether there was anything in it or not. But it is certain that there are a lot of people who are combating the idea tooth and nail. The following is from the Berlin Journal:

A Whitewater special of The Sentinel tells again of Blenfang and another farmer there who a few months ago followed eighteen of their tested cattle to Milwaukee and saw them slaughtered with the result that only one of the number was diseased. This one of the number was diseased. The result is the one case where the farmer was followed up by the farmers threw doubt on all cases and operated to stop the inspection of herds in that vicinity. The report also tells of results in New York similar to these and mentions W. N. Brown, Onondaga, N. Y., Elbridge T. Gerry of Delhi, N. Y., and John H. Stude, N. Y., all extensive and prominent herd owners who pronounced the tuberculin test a fake and refuse to have their cattle tested any further.

Another exchange has the following to say about the matter: "Judging from the talk of dairy-men and stock raisers in this part of the state, Wisconsin farmers will prosecute a war on the present system of testing cattle until the system is greatly improved or entirely wiped out. They claim that since the law was enacted, the tendency has been to hurt the reputation of Wisconsin stock and at the same time damage the reputation of the state as a butter and cheese country."

The nonsensical uproar read in so many papers about impure milk and cream and butter can not but have an immediate bad effect. People who are timid and "squeamish" are getting so they hardly dare take a mouthful of these dairy products for fear it will give them consumption. This is far more dangerous than all the "fat positions and fees." The Journal will do all it can to counteract the popular fear about milk, butter and cream.

Let us go on par-taking of these excellent foods as we have for years and years past and never fear. They do not cause consumption. They will not harm us and by and by we shall see these germ cranks admitting that "the belief that germs in milk caused tuberculosis was a mistake" just as they are now actually admitting that "the belief that a change to a mountainous region benefitted consumptives was a mistake." They are in substance the words used in a recent bulletin sent out by the state tuberculosis society with headquarters in Milwaukee. The newspaper that re-assures people as to the safety of the food, people as to the best service. That is just what The Evening Journal will continue doing.

Telephone Change at Nekoosa.

The telephone exchange at Nekoosa will in the near future be moved from the Lapland drugstore into another building and Carson Burt of this city will have the exchange. There are several reasons why the change will be made, one of them being because it is desirable to have a man at Nekoosa who will be able to chase trouble and fix up anything that may occur to a phone about the village. Heretofore it has been necessary to send a man down from this city whenever anything was out of order, and as most of the trouble comes after an electric storm when the men are the busiest here. It was often some time before a man could be spared to go there.

There are other advantages to be gained by having a man on the spot, which it is thought will more than offset the expense.

Died at the Hospital.

James Thompson of Meeteetse, Wyo., died at Riverview hospital on Sunday from heart failure, having been in that institution only a few days. Mr. Thompson had been troubled with a weakness of his heart for some time past, which he attributed to the fact that he was living at a high altitude in Wyoming, and he came here with the hope of benefiting his health.

The deceased was fifty-one years of age, and has a daughter living in Wyoming, who is expected here to take charge of the home, which have been at the Baker undertaking rooms since the man's death.

Don't Like New Law.

John Horton, manager of the Grand Rapids Milling Co.'s plant in this city, was in Milwaukee last week where he attended the meeting of Wisconsin Millers which was held on Friday. The millers assembled discussed the new law which requires every manufacturer of feed stuffs to pay an annual fee of $25, and the prevailing sentiment was against it, and it is possible that the organization may take the matter up and combat it. Mr. Horton was again elected vice president of the association.

Scandinavian Moravian Church.

A cottage prayer meeting will be held this Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Nelson on Oak street, east side. Next Sunday morning there will be English preaching services. Sunday school will be held at the usual hour, 9:30 a. m. O. E. meeting will be held as usual at 7:30 p. m. O. J. Odgaard, leader. We extend you an invitation to worship with us at any or all of these services. H. D. Johnson, Pastor.

A RECORD BREAKER.

Charles Kruger Goes for Twenty-One Days Without Food.

Feeling Fine.

They say that a camel can go two weeks without taking a drink, but most of the boys do not follow the camel's example because they do not care particularly to be a camel. But Charles E. Kruger, credit man at the Johnson & Hill Co. store, has not been making any noise about it either. On Saturday Charles ended a fast of 21 days, and during the three weeks did not eat an ounce of food of any kind.

He had begun to get a trifle peaked at the end of the twenty-one days, but was about every day of the time and says that he never felt better in his life than he does at the present time.

Mr. Kruger did not do the three weeks of fasting just for the fun of it, but had an object in view. He states that he had been feeling bad for some time and after careful consideration of the matter had decided that a good long fast would do him good, so on the 14th of April he started in and never broke his fast until the 25th, twenty-one days after-ward.

Mr. Kruger lost twenty-six pounds during his twenty-one days of abstinence, and as he only weighed one hundred and forty-two pounds when he started, he was a trifle thin when he got thru.

He started to eat again on Saturday afternoon, and reports that he has been blessed with a first class appetite ever since. He has not eaten very hearty meals, and only two a day, but is gaining flesh at the rate of five pounds a day.

This is not Mr. Kruger's first experience in fasting, as he went seven days without food once before, just as a trial, and found this so easy that he decided that he could make the longer fast without inconvenience.

Mr. Kruger states that he did not feel excessively hungry at any time, although there were times when it took considerable will power to stick to his determination. He drank water all the time until the last three days, during which time he did not drink much, not more than tea and a half during the three days. Mr. Kruger states that he is feeling first class at the present time and is certain that the trouble that had been bothering him has left him for good. Whether it has or not Mr. Kruger has established a reputation as a faster and a record that will probably not be broken for some time to come.

Funeral of Patrick Mullen.

The remains of Patrick P. Mullen were brought to this city on Thursday and the following day they were interred in Calvary cemetery, services being held at the Catholic church at 10 o'clock Friday forenoon. Mr. Mullen was ninety-five years old at the time of his death and had been a resident of Grand Rapids during the past thirty years.

Deceased was born in the county of Tipperary, Ireland, on the 17th of May, 1813. He came to America in 1848 and settled at New York, where he lived for three years. He moved to Montreal, Canada, where he was married in 1849 to Miss Mary Cole, and came to Grand Rapids in 1878, and has since resided here. Mr. Mullen is survived by four sons, two daughters having preceded him to the great beyond. A Mullen surviving son is James A. Mullen of San Francisco, W. D. Mullen of Seattle, P. E. Mullen of Everett, Washington and T. E. Mullen of this city.

No New Developments.

There have been no new developments in regard to building a gas plant in this city. As far as can be learned, the party that was here talking the matter up had no intention of putting in a plant himself, but was merely trying to interest our citizens in the matter, and after a company was formed he would install the plant.

Mr. Ferrin was of the opinion that the matter could best be handled by the Electric & Water company, and the gas and electric plant run in connection. In other cities where this has been done the plan has proven eminently practicable and in many instances the gas plant has been the best paying part of the institution. Mr. Ferrin expects to be here again before a great while when the matter may be taken up again.

A Largo Soda Fountain.

During a visit to the plant of the Keady Manufacturing Co. last week the writer was shown several nice pieces of furniture that the workmen are hustling along as rapidly as possible. One of these was a soda water bar that is going to Superior. The bar and back bar are forty feet long and when finished will be enameled in white. It is said that when completed the fountain will be one of the largest in the northwest. The price of the job was $1000 and it was to be out by the first of May, after which the company will have to pay two per cent of the cost for every day it is held beyond that time.

Paperhanging and Painting.

Interior finishing of all kinds. Our papering is first class. We also handle Alfred Peter prize wall paper and will be pleased to call at your residence and take your order at reasonable prices. Nelson Laramie, Phone 89.

City Wins First Game.

The baseball season was opened in this city last Sunday when our boys trimmed the Nekoosa lads to the tune of 15 to 1. All of the boys who played on the local team were after a tournament place on the team that may account for the good work done by them. Several chances had to be made in the lineup so as to give all of the boys a chance to play, and they all did such good work that it is almost impossible to pick the best players. It is the intention, however, to give them all a chance to show what they are made of before any of them are let go.

The boys say that if they are given proper support the coming summer that they will put a winning team into the field, and all of them home boys.

Following is the lineup and the score by innings:

Death of Michael Mason.

Michael Mason, one of the old residents of Grand Rapids, died at the home of his son, Miles Mason, in this city on Saturday, the 26th inst.

Deceased was born in County Wick, Ireland, in the month of May, 1829. He came to America in 1847, settling at Watertown. Later he moved to Portage where he was married in 1857 to Margaret Slawey. Mr. Mason moved to Portage with his family in 1861, and settled in Saratoga, later moving to Port Edwards, and then back to the farm in Saratoga, where he lived until about four years ago, since which time he has made his home in this city with his son Mike.

Mr. Mason followed the business of river pilot for many years, or until the evening out of the great forest of Wisconsin put a stop to this business. He is survived by four sons and two daughters, the children being G. W. Mason and J. T. Mason of this city, P. P. Mason of Wausau, Mike Mason and Mrs. E. O. Voyer of this city and Miss Lizette Mason of Portage.

The funeral was held at ten o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Peter and Paul Catholic church, Rev. Wm. Redding officiating, the remains being interred in Calvary cemetery.

Searching for Meteors.

Last week Weather Observer Ed Mahoney received a circular from the office of the weather bureau at La Crosse seeking information concerning a meteor, which was supposed to be wandering around in this locality on the evening of the 15th instant. The letter was as follows:

"Sir:—Will you kindly inform this office at your earliest convenience if a meteor was observed from that place on Saturday last, April 12th, at what time? In what direction did it appear to be moving?

At what altitude above the horizon did it first appear? Near what constellation was it first seen?

Was the light very bright and of what color? Was any noise heard after its passage?

How long after? What did it sound like? Anything else that can be added would be of value.

Very Respectfully,
Edwin C. Thompson.

Observer.

Now Mr. Mahoney feels that he is being imposed upon. He doesn't mind cleaning up the court house, showing lady visitors thru the judges' rooms, running errands for the county officers, hoisting the weather flag, taking down the readings of the maximum and minimum thermometers twice a day, measuring the rainfall, mowing the lawn in summer, shoveling snow in the winter, keeping a fire in the furnace and furnishing fuel with shoveling tobacco into winter and summer, and doing what other little and jobs come his way. A man who is drawing a large salary must be in the line some way, but he does object to sitting up nights looking for meteors. He says that if they will notify him ahead of time when they expect a meteor along he will do the best he can to capture it, but that he cannot make a steady practice of watching for them.

Altho Mr. Mahoney did not see any shooting stars on the night mentioned, there was one county officer who did. Last week, clerk of court, being duly sworn, says:

"That on the Saturday night in question, to wit, the 12th of April, A. D. 1908, that he, being unusually busy at that time discussing the prospects for a good catch of trout the day following, set in his office until a late hour, probably ten o'clock. That he had not drunk to excess either during the day or evening. That while on his way home he heard a strange noise and noticed an unusual illumination in the heavens. That he turned quickly about and saw what he supposed at the time to be a fireball, which he firmly believes was the meteor aforementioned."

"Time, to the best of his knowledge and belief, about 10 o'clock a. m. Direction of movement, north. Altitude, about thirty degrees, more or less, according to the government survey."

None what constellation was it first seen? Here is where Bert made a fatal error. He neglected to notice near what constellation the meteor first made its appearance. He doesn't know whether it was Capricorn, Orion or the tropic of Capricorn, but so far as he can remember it was about half way between the big dipper and the Kraken's saloon."

Bert further deposes that the light was not very bright and that it was of a light color. That there was a slight noise, about like a last year's sky rocket, fired on the 18th of April. "This is getting it down pretty fine, but Mr. Hoyer has an excellent memory, and probably knows what he is talking about."

As the weather observer man says that anything else that can be added would be of value, we will add that on 10 o'clock is a poor time of the night to bring out a meteor. The early birds have all gone to roost and the late ones have not started yet. Had it been about two or three hours later there is no question but what it would have been seen by a number of people and that they would have been able to give a vivid description of it next day."

Those Busy Girls.

"Girls are of few days and full of mischief, and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. When the fair one owesthew can in much haste and strength get pretty foot with much vigor, than boyate. She cometh forth in the evening with low neck and short sleeves, but in the morning she lieth abed while her mother husketh. She catcheth all winter of the devoted man's oysters and partaketh with gloe of his sleighriders, but when the gentle springtime cometh, she wikketh the other eye and goeth with a new bean."—Ex.

Badger Cows Break World's Records.

That Wisconsin leads all the states of the Union in dairy production records of pure bred cows is shown by the latest bulletin issued by the University of Wisconsin Experiment Station, prepared by Prof. E. W. Woll and Roy C. Harris, entitled "Tests of Dairy Cows, 1906-1907." The bulletin gives an account of the official and semi official testing of dairy cows in this state during the year ending Oct. 1, 1907, and includes reports on tests of 283 pure bred Holstein cows, 99 Guernsey cows, 6 Jerseys, 3 Ayrshires, and 4 grade cows, a total of 495 animals.

The Holstein, Colantha 4th's Johanna, holds the highest authenticated world's record for the production of butter fat ever made by a cow of any breed. "This cow, during the year ending Dec. 22, 1907, gave 27,432.5 pounds of milk and 998.256 pounds of butter fat, the average fat content being 3.64 per cent. This illustrates forcibly the wonderful development of the modern dairy cow, which produced at least four times as much butter fat as most good cows, and six times as much as the majority of ordinary cows in Wisconsin. A complete history and record of this cow, including an account of the method of feeding is given, together with a full page picture."

from the wildwood. If there is a man who has not enjoyed the pleasure of glazing a can of long twine worms for bait, vizing each large one up with the conviction that he will land a trout, then that man is to be pitied. They talk about electric shocks, but ordinary talk will not express the thrill that is telegraphed from the hook to the arm of the angler, when, maybe after hours of function, a brook trout grabs the hook and tries to get away with it. There is a delightful uncertainty about a trout that makes his ways more winsome than those of the ordinary fish. If he bites your hook and you pull up at once and do not get him, you are certain that you pulled too quick. If you wait a moment in order to give him time to get well hooked, and then pull, and do not get him you are certain that you waited too long. There are men who have such a knack in everything in the world that they know at exactly what moment to pull and are perfectly willing to impart the information to their neighbors and friends. These men generally have holes in the basement of their trousers and chew tobacco and white a good deal. Some of the men went fishing last Sunday and some of them went to church and some of them went to church and went fishing afterward.

HANSEN.

O. Lipke is in Chicago on business. He will be gone a couple of weeks. Al Alaska left Monday for Pittsville where he will be employed as settler in the mill there.

Jack Maxwell has returned from Park Falls and together with a man by the name of Murray has rented the saw mill at Pittsville.

This play "Dutch Jake" will be given at the Vesper opera house May 1st together with other entertainments and after this a dance will be given.

The new town officers were installed one day last week. The slogan of "centralized taxes" carried the day, not, however, without the best of efforts by its champions. The ground was fought over inch by inch and divisions of the house were called for in a great many cases, so close was the count. One appropriation of some $800 on a road to reach the land of Mr. Hayes will be a white elephant on the town as said Hayes has left the community, hax and baggage after his friends had exerted themselves in his behalf almost to the point of frenzy. A proposition to lay out and survey a three mile road due east into Vesper was turned down as was also a half mile down near Aldorf.

The proposition to pay road taxes in cash was voted in at the election the fore part of April and it affords an run currently now we ought to get better roads for the amount of money expended than before when the road tax was paid in labor.

Disposition was made of the stock on the Hayes farm by the town board last week to highest bidders. This stock was in a starved condition, some of the animals already dead and others coming from the carcasses, when reported to the authorities.

At the town meeting a resolution was offered the purport of which was to compel the town of Sigel to make more passable the road leading from Henry Hackbarth's corner to Vesper. It was explained by the chairman, Mr. Peters, that compulsion would mean a law suit and much attending expense and ill nature. We mention this fact to show the extremity to which people obliged to travel over the road are wrought up. It had not ought to be necessary to carry to court an ill of so long standing and a public disgrace to the town of Sigel, a disgrace of greater magnitude because the road is between the two towns of Hinson and Sigel and this portion has long been held by mutual agreement to be the duty of Sigel to keep up. The road is not only a disgrace to Sigel and her officers but a nuisance to the town of Hinson, and to the town of Sigel, it is a nuisance that would not be tolerated by heathen savages, much less men who live and control affairs in enlightened districts. As the weather observer man says that anything else that can be added would be of value, we will add that on 10 o'clock is a poor time of the night to bring out a meteor. The early birds have all gone to roost and the late ones have not started yet. Had it been about two or three hours later there is no question but what it would have been seen by a number of people and that they would have been able to give a vivid description of it next day."

Those Busy Girls. "Girls are of few days and full of mischief, and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise. Badger Cows Break World's Records. That Wisconsin leads all the states of the Union in dairy production records of pure bred cows is shown by the latest bulletin issued by the University of Wisconsin Experiment Station, prepared by Prof. E. W. Woll and Roy C. Harris, entitled "Tests of Dairy Cows, 1906-1907." The bulletin gives an account of the official and semi official testing of dairy cows in this state during the year ending Oct. 1, 1907, and includes reports on tests of 283 pure bred Holstein cows, 99 Guernsey cows, 6 Jerseys, 3 Ayrshires, and 4 grade cows, a total of 495 animals.

The Holstein, Colantha 4th's Johanna, holds the highest authenticated world's record for the production of butter fat ever made by a cow of any breed. "This cow, during the year ending Dec. 22, 1907, gave 27,432.5 pounds of milk and 998.256 pounds of butter fat, the average fat content being 3.64 per cent. This illustrates forcibly the wonderful development of the modern dairy cow, which produced at least four times as much butter fat as most good cows, and six times as much as the majority of ordinary cows in Wisconsin. A complete history and record of this cow, including an account of the method of feeding is given, together with a full page picture."

Yokosawa, a Guernsey, has a production for the year of 11,374.5 pounds of milk and 638.9 pounds of fat, the average fat content being 5.59 per cent. The leading Jersey cow is Midget Pettesse, with a year's production of 6,394.3 pounds of milk and 436.2 pounds of fat, the average fat content being 6.83 per cent.

NEKOOSA.

(From the Times.)
Last Monday night at about one o'clock the fire whistle called out the fire department to put out a blaze in the outer pier at the dam which had gained considerable headway. The fire is supposed to have originated from a spark sometime during the afternoon when it was first noticed and water thrown on it, but at about one o'clock at night a new blaze was noticed again. A few of the timbers were badly charred but the damage was slight.

Children set fire to some straw by D. Billing's barn yesterday afternoon and the building was in danger of destruction when neighbors noticed it and sent in an alarm. The fire had already begun to work under the barn and would have soon made a bad blaze had it not been noticed in time.

A. O. Fischer, head fireman for the Port Edwards Fibre Co., met with a serious accident last Tuesday morning. The water glass on one of the boilers exploded and three pieces of glass struck him in the right eye lodging in the eyeball. Dr. R. C. Aiviward removed the glass and Mr. Fischer went to his home at Nekoosa.

Mr. Archie Underhill and Miss Maude Starling of Finley were united in wedlock by Rev. A. W. Cook at the congressional parlance last Saturday forenoon at 11:30. Mr. and Mrs. Underhill will reside in Arden.

A crew of men has been at work during the past week putting in a cement floor in the creamery building. As soon as the floor is completed the machinery will be placed in position ready for starting.

Every man and woman who is able should make it a point to be there to hear Miss Addams, who is claimed by many to be the greatest woman living. She is certainly the greatest in her line, and her line is one that has proven the hardest on earth to solve.

W. H. Carey has purchased a tract of land on the river bank from L. M. Nash, the same being the place formerly used by the gun club as a shooting grounds. Mr. Carey is planning on grading the place up so that there is a gradual slope and then putting in a pump with an irrigation system, after which he will plant the place with small fruits. English Philae has been figuring on the work necessary.

The navy department has ordered that no more letters be published from sailors on the American fleet. It seems that the movements of the fleet has in many instances been told that has when it was supposed by sailors that the movements were secret, and that the movements were secret, and that the movements were secret.

Jesse Waterman landed a five pound rainbow trout from the Four Mile creek on Saturday. Jesse and some companions were fishing for suckers near the mouth of the creek when the trout took the hook and there was immediately something doing. The fish was 35 inches in length and to the average trout fisherman looked as if it might weigh about fifteen pounds. The fish was on exhibition at Dally's drug store on Sunday and every enthusiast in town took at least one looking look at it.

George B. McMillan, who has spent the past winter in California, returned home on Monday. For some time past Mr. McMillan has been at Long Beach, which is one of the best fishing points on the coast, and as Mr. McMillan is an enthusiastic fisherman, his time was spent in the most enjoyable manner. On the Saturday before Mr. McMillan left the fleet of 10 American Battleships sailed past Long Beach, stopping, and could enough there so that people could visit them. It was a grand sight and one that a person may see only once in a lifetime.

Mr. McMillan is well pleased with his trip from start to finish and reports that there was hardly a day during his absence that he did not hear someone from Wisconsin.

M. A. Bogozov says that he never asked the city $7000 for a twenty foot strip of land off from his property along Vine street for the purpose of widening that thoroughfare. Several of the city fathers say that he did ask $7000, but that he afterward came down to $6000. It is reported that two of the owners of land beyond the end of Vine street have offered to donate the land for an extension of the street provided the city fathers will open the street thru to Court house street. This is a matter that should be attended to whether the street is widened or not, and another matter that might be taken up without offending anybody is the laying of a sidewalk along the north side of Vine street between Second and Third which would relieve the strain temporarily, so that the council could take its time in widening the street.

Too Much Politics.

Oconto Enterprise.—The people of Oconto have come to the conclusion that the civil service system of Wisconsin is a failure. Some time ago an examination was conducted here, and among those to take it for deputy game warden was M. J. Fumelle, who passed a successful and satisfactory examination, and he was appointed to a deputyship by J. W. Stone, state game warden. Governor Davidson, however, refuses to approve the appointment, and the probability is that Mr. Fumelle will never get it. It does not make any difference to us whether Mr. Fumelle receives his appointment or not. In fact, we don't care and would never object if the entire game warden system were abolished. There was more game and less hunters before this state had game wardens than there are now. As soon as the game warden system was inaugurated in Wisconsin the game began to decrease and the hunters to increase out of proportion to the increase in population, so that on the whole we believe it would be better for the people if there were no game wardens. Of course, it would not be so well for a lot of office seekers, who enjoy making an easy living at the expense of the public, but from the standpoint of the layman this state could get along very well without any wardens.

But if we are to have them why not appoint them and keep them steady during the whole year, instead of only in the hunting season, when nearly every person who goes into the woods is provided with a license and has a legal right to hunt? More damage is done during the closed season than during the open season, and it is chiefly because there are no wardens around to prevent it.

Every few weeks this office receives a communication from the civil service commissioner of this state advising for applicants for positions under the state, the applicants to undergo an examination. If after going to the trouble and expense of an examination an applicant's appointment can be held up by the governor or anyone else there is very little encouragement for our citizens to pay much attention to the plan, and it would be well to return to the old system, where appointments were made or held up on account of politics in the broad, open light of day, and not under the guise furnished by a civil service mask.

To Study Diseases of Cranberries.

The University of Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station has entered into an agreement with the bureau of entomology of the United States department of agriculture to carry on co-operative work at the state cranberry station at Orono, Wis. With the development of the cranberry industry, insect and fungus diseases seem to affect this crop more and more and federal authorities are combining with the state in the study of problems relating to their eradication. Mr. C. B. Hardenbergh, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin in the class of '05, who is now special field agent for the United States department of agriculture, has been in Madison conferring with the authorities of the experiment station. The station at Orono has been opened this week for the necessary observations of insect life. The observations of the past year are now in press, and will be issued in a bulletin entitled "The Shortly Insects of Wisconsin." Mr. Hardenbergh came to Wisconsin from the University of Minnesota, Holland, and took his A. B. degree in 1905, and his master's degree in 1906. The year following he held a fellowship in entomology and afterward continued his graduate studies until his appointment to government service.

Bridge Assistance.

The Geological Survey, feeling that there has been a lack of skilled planning and supervision in the construction of the bridges of the state, resulting in a large number of poor weak bridges and bridges of excessive cost, offers to aid in the planning of bridges erected this year.

The Survey will, on request from the proper officials, send an engineer to inspect the bridge site, and determine on the span and the character of bridge and foundations. From this information plans and specifications will be prepared for a bridge of the proper character and strength, and an estimate of the proper cost furnished. The bridge can then be advertised and let with the assurance that a good bridge will be erected at a reasonable cost. Plans furnished by bridge companies will be checked on request when there is not sufficient time to use the method outlined above.

All of this assistance is absolutely free to towns and villages and there seems to be no valid reason why bridge officials should not avail themselves of it.

The calls on the highway division for bridge assistance are coming in daily, and if this community has any bridges to build this year it would be well for the town board to apply immediately in order that the application may get on file in time for work this summer.
